PLAN TO COMBAT LOSS OF LEARNING

School districts desperately need federal dollars intended for schools to help students, staff, and families recover from the pandemic. This money is essential for preventing the public health crisis from becoming a generational education crisis. We ask that these federal dollars go directly to public schools.

WISD is expected to receive $107,151 from federal stimulus dollars, if the education stimulus dollars go towards education as intended.

As desired by our stakeholders, WISD will leverage most of the resources to target instruction.
